

PRIVACY POLICY

Penwood Real Estate Investment Management, LLC (“Penwood”) has adopted this Privacy Policy applicable to our website, www.penwoodre.com, and any other sites on the internet operated by Penwood.

Penwood does not currently collect personal identifying information through this or any other website, except for information that you send us in an e-mail message. If you choose to send us an e-mail message, we may retain the content of your message and any attachments, your e-mail address, and our response. Penwood does not sell, rent or exchange any personal identifying information to or with unrelated third parties. However, Penwood may share information with related third parties or unrelated third parties in connection with the Penwood website, including the maintenance and operation thereof, or as may otherwise be legally required. Although Penwood uses security that it believes to be appropriate to protect personal identifying information it receives through its website, Penwood does not guarantee that its security precautions will protect against loss, misuse or alteration of any such information.

Penwood reserves the right to modify this Policy at any time. Your continuing access to this website and any other sites on the internet operated by Penwood constitutes your acceptance of this Policy and any modifications to this Policy in effect at the time of your access. No modification or attempted modification of this Policy by you shall be binding on Penwood.

Please also see the Disclaimer that applies to this website and states that the information presented on this site is not intended to convey or constitute investment advice or intended as advertising or as a solicitation of any kind.
